ABOUT: Homeless No More has been serving homeless families and children in the Midlands of South Carolina for over 30 years through emergency shelter, transitional shelter, and affordable housing. Through our programs at Family Shelter and St. Lawrence Place, we provided both 30-day emergency shelter and two-year transitional shelter to over 450 homeless parents and their children last year. We work to meet the needs of every family member – from life skill classes for the parents to after-school programs, camps and school resources for our children on our campuses. And we are the only shelter system in the Midlands that keeps the entire family together – as we welcome both fathers and boys over the age of 12.
